Chopra was cast as the female led the Abbas-Mustan Romantic Thriller, Humraaz (2002), in which he had to make his film debut. [35] However, this fell for several reasons: she said production in conflict with her schedule, while producers said they refer to because Chopra assumed several other commitments. [36] [37] [37] She occurred her debut on her screen in the Tamil movie of 2002 Thamizhan as the Loving HeroA © s protagonist, played by Vijay. A review published in the Hindu was grateful the film for its ingenuity and dialogue; However, it was felt that Chopra's role was limited from an active point of view. [38] In 2003, Chopra made her debut in Bollywood films as the second female, which contrasts with Sunny Deol and Prado. Meadow. In the Inter of Anil Sharma: Love Story of a Spy. [3] In the context of the Indian army in Kashmir, the film tells the story of an agent and the struggle of him against terrorism. The HÁ © Roe was one of the biggest Bollywood films that year, but received mixed critic raptures. [39] [40] Derek Elley de Variety said "Mega-Looker Chopra makes a solid debut on the screen." [41] Later that year appeared in the success of Raj Kanwar AndaaZ with Akshay Kumar, sharing the feminine track again (this time with the debutant Lara Dutta). [39] Chopra played a vivacious young man who falls in love with Kumar's character. The Hindustan Times highlighted the glamor that she brought to paper; [3] Kunal Shah of the Sify praised his play and affirmed that he had "all the qualities to be a star." [42] His performance earned him the Filmfare award for the best debut Female (along with Dutta) and a nomination for the FilmFare Award for the best support actress. [43] The first three Chopra launches in 2004 à € "Plan, Kismet and Asambhava © " acted badly at the box office. [44] Chopra was typically launched during this previous period as a "glamor quotient", in papers that were considered forgotten by the cottical jinginder cinema tuteja. [44] [45] Later that year starred with Salman Khan And Akshay Kumar in the Romantica Comedy of David Dhawan Mujhse Shaadi Karogi, who became the third further film of the year in India and successful. [46] At the end of 2004, she starred in front of Kumar and Karona Kapoor at the Abbas-Mustan thriller. Chopra considers her's first role as an antagonist, portraying Soniya Roy, an ambitious woman who accuses her sexual harassment cinema models, like the "biggest learning experience of her career". [26] The film was a critical and commercial success, and Chopra's performance received critical acclaim. [45] [47] The author Rini Bhattacharya accredited with bringing seductress to the silver screen. [48] [49] He changed his career significantly. [31] A critic who wrote for the BBC said: "Aitraaz is the film of Priyanka Chopra. Like the deliciously perverse, the gold excavation, the seductive scheme, she chew every scene that is with his presence of magnified screen ". [50] She won a Award of Filmfare Award for the best performance on a negative role, becoming the second and last actress to win the prize after Kajol (the category was suspended in 2008). [3] Chopra also received a nomination for the Filmfare award for the best support actress, and the prize for the film of the GUILD products for the best actress on a supporting role. [43] Increase to prominence (2005, 2006) In 2005, Chopra appeared in six movies. The first two pitches of her, the thrillers of blackmail and karam, were commercially unsuccessful. [51] Shilpa Bharatan-iyer de Rediff.com considers that Blackmail is a very predictable film and believed that the role of it as a wife of the police commissioner was very limited from a point of view of the performance. [52] His performance in Karam was better received; Subhash K. Jha wrote that Chopra "with his interpretation of high drama, flies highly creating a character whose vulnerability and beauty are supported by the internal and external worlds created for his car. Cter ". [53] Later that year Chopra interpreted the wife of Akshay Kumar in the family drama of Vipul Amrutlal Shah Waqt: The race against time, the story of a small businessman (played by Amitabh Bachchan ) T That, hiding his illness, he wants to teach his irresponsible son some lessons before he dies. During production, Chopra reviewed Leh, a favorite childhood place, for the shooting of the song "Subah Hogi". [18] She suffered an accident during the filming for the song "Make me a favor, let's play Holi" when she was electrocuted, running a day recovering on the [54] The film was well received by critics, and it was considered a commercial success. [51] [55] Chopra with co-star Shah Rukh Khan at the premiere of Don (2006), she, the following, starting in front of Arjun Rampal in the romantic Mystery Thriller Thrillerrepresenting the role of a possessive lover. The critical reactions to the film were varied, but their performance received praise. Taran Adarsh wrote that Chopra "is destined to gain laurels once again [...]. the actor is emerging as one of the best talents of these times of rapid change"[56]. His next release was the romance of Suniel Darshan Barsaat, co-started by Bobby Deol and Bipasha Basu. The film was a commercial and critical failure in India, but it had better results on the foreign market.[51] Chopra's performance received mixed criticisms, with Bollywood Hungama describing it as "mechanical".[58] However, Rediff.com considered Chopra as a "siture of quiet intelligence, which underestimated his role to perfection".[59] Later that same year, Rohan Sippy chose her along with Abhishek Bachchan, Ritesh Deshmukh and Nana Patekar in comedy Bluffmaster!. Chopra interpreted the independent worker Simran Saxena, Bachchan's loving interest. The film turned out to be a taquilla success.[51] After starting in 2006 with special appearances in three films, Chopra starred in the film of superheroes Krishi by Rakesh Roshan (a sequel to the 2003 Kool... Mil Gaya science fiction film). The film was the second most tachylera of the year in India and raised more than $11,170 million (US$16 million) around the world reaching a box office success status.[60] His next film was the romantic comedy of Dharmesh Darshan Aap Ki Khatir, co-started by Akshaye Khanna, Ameesha Patel and Dino Morea. Neither Chopra's film nor performance were well received.[61] Sukanya Verma de Rediff.com stated that the portrait of Chopra de Anu was "erratically" and that his character was never consistent: "firstly scaly, then cool, and then sensitive" [62] The latest release of Chopra in 2006 was the action thriller of Farhan Akhtar Don (un the 1978 film of the same name), with Shah Rukh Khan. Chopra portrayed the Roma (played by Zeenat Kariqi in the original film), who joins the underworld to avenge Don for killing his brother. Chopra received the training of martial arts by his role in the film, and made his own tricks. [63] The film was declared the box office in India and abroad, with income of A € 21.05 billion (US $ 14 million). [46] Raja Sen of Rediff.com found Chopra to be "great thought he was out of her depth, but after six months of consideration he accepted the role, inspired by Bhandarkar's confidence in her. [72] For the paper, Chopra had to win 6 kilograms (13 lb) and constantly spilled the weight during production while the character progressed in the film. Both the film and the performance of him received critical acclamation, demonstrating being an important inflection point in him. [45] Rajeev Masand felt that "it becomes respectable performance, which will inevitably fall as its best." [73] For his performance, he won several awards, including the National Film Award for the Best Actress, the FilmFare Award The best actress, the IIFA Award for the Best Actress, the screen prize at the best actress, and the Prize of Culture to producers to the best actress in a leadership role. [43] [74] [75] With a global income of 600 million (US $ 8 million), fashion emerged as a business success, and was listed by Subhash K. Jha as one of the best films of the DA © each with women protagonists. [76] [77] She signed up for having success Despite being a movie centered on male-free women. Chopra said in retrospect: "I think it's really fashionable fashion kick the process of films dominated by women. Today you have many other movies that have done well with female tracks. "[26] Chopra's final film of the year was Tarun Mansukhani's romantic comedy Dostana, starring Abhishek Bachchan and John Abraham. Set in Miami, the film tells the story of a friendship between her character and two men who pretend to be gay to share an apartment with her. Chopra played a young fashion-magazine editor Neha, who is trying to deal with professional pressures in her life. Produced by Dharma Productions, the film was a financial success with global revenues of more than $860 million (US$ 1.1 billion). [46] Chopra's performance and the look on the film were praised. [79][80] For her performances in Fashion and Dostana, she jointly won the Stardust Award for Actor of the Year – Woman. [43] Experiment with Unconventional Functions (2008à2011) In 2009, Chopra played a fetish Marathi woman named Sweetie in the thriller by Vishal Bhardwaj Kaminye (co-starring Shahid Kapoor), about twin brothers and the journey in her life linked to the underworld. The film received critical acclaim and became a hit at the box office with global gross proceeds of $9 million.[46] Nikhat Kazmi of The Times of India thought that Chopra's role completely reinvented it, and Rajeev Masand wrote: "Spring to surprise delight in one part more small is [Chopra], who sprinkles her lines with a year of film called [83] Her role earned her several awards and nominations, including a second consecutive Guild Film Award for Best Actress in a Leading Role after the fashion nominations and Best Actress at the premieres Filmfare, Screen and IIFA.[84][85] Chopra on the soundtrack version of 7 Khoon MaaF (2011) Chopra later appeared in Ashutosh Gowariker's romantic comedy What?Raashee?, Based on the novel Kinball Ravenswood of Madhu Rye.
